

The Language of Play

An exciting new training opportunity explaining the role of play in enhancing children's language, literacy and communication skills.

This highly practical and thought provoking course is aimed at all practitioners working with young children in the Foundation Stage and Key Stage One.

This training opportunity will examine the planning, creation and development of language rich indoor play environments.

It will offer:

- inspirational starting points for language based play activities
- ideas for developing and extending vocabulary through play
- guidance on providing structured activities to encourage and support speaking, listening, reading and writing
- suggestions for planning the role of the adult within play.

The workshop will include hands-on activities, power point presentations and for all participants, a set of useful handouts.

This is the kind of course that changes what you do in the classroom forever!

Early Years Teacher, Bedford

Workshop participants will need to bring the following essential items to the workshop:

- 2 carrier bags of junk boxes
- A glue stick, sellotape, scissors
- 2 adult hats (the more unusual the better)
- 2 pieces of fabric approximately 2 x 1m each (plain or patterned)
- A pack of felt tip pens
- 8 A4 sheets of card

This will be a training experience to remember!
